Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

By a very decisive majority the California Senate has protested President Roosevelt's plan of packing the Supreme Court with six justices that see eye for eye with him on New Deal reforms. By a narrower majority the California Assembly supports the plan. The Senate is dominantly Republican and the Assembly Democratic. This is unfortunate for two reasons. It puts the issue on a partisan basis and it prevents a definite expression for or against the court packing plan by the state of California.

United States Steel and other big steel corporations have advanced the wages of its workmen to a new high-$5 per day. At the same time notice is served that the price of steel will be advanced from $2 to $6 per ton. In other words the wage increase will be paid by the steel consumer. Textiles, automobile, food prices and many other commodities are advancing in price to cover wage increases. All wage earners are consumers. Just what is the advantage to wage earners, if their wages are increased and all things they purchase advance proportionately? Their wage increase will perhaps take care of the increase in the cost of living. To be sure many wage earners are also receiving more leisure time along with increased pay, but unless they have money to spend for amusement and recreation, leisure does not mean much to most people.

While steel masters are able to add wage increases to production costs, gold producers cannot do so. The price of gold is fixed, for the time being by presidential edict, and there is no way of passing wage increases onto the consumer. Strikes in the gold mining industry inevitably lead into a blind alley in which both mine owners and miners lose without a ghost of a chance to recover. When wages rise to a point that dividends cannot be paid investors inevitably the mines must close, fill with water, and wait for a more propitious time in world affairs in which to reopen. The same result happens when the ore values fail to justify milling. The business of gold mining is perhaps the most precarious in the world. The reason —at least the ultimate reason—is the arbitrary price, the ceiling fixed by the government on the price of the metal. Anything increasing costs—too much water, ore pinching out or failing in recoverable values, litigation over apex rights, or unwarranted increase in wages of miners, may close a gold mine.

The logic of the sit down strike is this: If a man, employed, owning neither the tools nor an interest in the business, may sit down in an industrial plant, occupy it as against the possession of the owner, hold it for ransome, and defy peace officers to oust him from possession, he has exactly the same "right" to enter the home of the owner and occupy it until his demands are met. He may even enter at night and throw the home owner out of his bed and occupy the bed. If one is right the other is, the paltering with the law and the facts by Governor Murphy of Michigan, and "moral" right urged by John L. Lewis, to the contrary notwithstanding.

Can an honest man be found to take a seat on the United States Supreme Bench, even if the President forces a subservient Congress to give him the right to appoint six new justices? Let us consider this question.

1. The President could not be sure that his appointee would vote according to the President's viewpoint, unless the appointee had publicly expressed himself on the main questions at issue prior to his appointment. In lower courts judges refuse to sit in cases in which they have previously publicly appeared on one side or the other in matters at issue. They disqualify themselves. In other words any appointee, accepting this post to accomplish the President's purpose must have disqualified himself in advance of his appointment. Would an honest man accept such a post?

From this point of view the President's plan is plainly pointed toward the corruption of the court. Viewed even from a standpoint of practical politics the plan is impractical. An honest man will refuse such an appointment. Suppose for instance, the President succeeds in forcing his plan through. Appointments are made. A new NRA plan, embodying most of the features of the old scheme which the Supreme Court unanimously found invalid, is presented. The six new judges all vote for it. Immediately the country shouts: "Sure they vote for it, what are they paid $15,000 a year for." But supposing some of the new justices, oppose the plan. From the New Deal brain trusters comes the cry: "The dirty ingrates, what do they mean by turning traitor"? It's a fine dish to set before the sovereign American people.

HISTORIC NOR. SAN JUAN

The above is an engraving done by Ernest G. Petsche, who lives on the Ridge and has an eye for the artistic values of that historic country. This is a view of North San Juan looking north-east showing the National Hotel and other places of business. North San Juan is just now very much in the public eye because of the fact that two enterprising young men are placer mining in the old private bank building, Block & Firth carried on a flourishing gold buying and bank business back in 1882. Robert Stebbins and Louis Guy are the prospectors who are panning many a nugget from the ruins of the famous old edifice.

ROAD MACHINE PURCHASED BY CITY COUNCIL

The Nevada City city council has purchased for the city a 40-horse power caterpillar road maintainer for work on the streets. It is operated by a caterpillar drive mounted on four large pneumatic wheels. The machine was tested out to the satisfaction of the council and purchased. In the purchase they traded in some antiquated trucks and a grader.

The city crew is engaged in removing the last portion of an old pipe line at the Clarence Shurtleff home on Nimrod street. A large portion of this work was completed last year. When the new larger pipe line is installed it will give a larger pipe line and water supply to Silva avenue.

WOMAN SUSPECT IS INDICTED FOR JACKS' MURDER

The grand jury yesterday indicted Mrs. Alice Munchauser for the murder of Oscar E. Jacks. It is expected that she will now be charged with murder in the first degree. The grand jury considered the testimony the better part of the day. All the woman's children have been taken to Detention Home in Marysville.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DISCUSSES ROAD WORK

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce covered a good deal of business at its Monday meeting.

Discussion took place as to the expenditure of the $100,000 to be expended for roads in Sierra, Yuba and Nevada counties by the state. It is believed that the work will begin in Sierra county.

Mr. P. Marshall, engineer of the Washington road project reported that it will take two or three months to complete the work.

A committee of three consisting of Messrs. Calanan, Waggoner and Davies was appointed by president Fred E. Conner to inquire into and discuss the question of the reported withdrawal of WPA labor from Nevada county with the supervisors.

A committee from the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce met Monday with the board of supervisors which was in session regarding WPA work on the Washington road. The Sacramento headquarters of the W PA was reached by long distance telephone and the information obtained that the project would be carried out regardless of withdrawal of WPA at the end of the month.

U. S. COMMITTEE FORMS TO GUARD SUPREME COURT

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 4.—Frank E. Gannett, publisher of the Gannett newspapers and an ardent supporter of some of President Roosevelt's policies heads the "National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government." The committee's petition to congress has been distributed to individuals and organizations from coast to coast, to whom Mr. Gannett wrote personally. Following is Mr. Gannett's announcement:

"I have received commendation and assurance of support from various parts of the country. So many have urged me to lead a fight to preserve and protect the Supreme Court and our Constitution that I have been persuaded to join with others in the organization of a National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government.

"The object of this committee will be to help mobilize and coordinate individual and mass protest against the proposed undermining of an independent judiciary.

"Never in our history have the American people been so deeply stirred. It is not an issue for partisan politics. It transcends party, overshadows religious, racial, and all other dividing lines.

"Our form of government was set up as a protection against tyranny and autocracy. Our forefathers saw the necessity of having the three departments, legislative, executive, and judicial, kept separate and independent.

"If we permit one man to become the master of all three branches of the government and of the fundamental law, then we shall throw away our most precious heritage and shall have sounded the death knell of democracy.

"If all those who believe in our form of government will rise up and make their protest heard in Washington the constitutional balance among legislative, executive and judicial department of the government can be preserved.

"The National Committee will include outstanding Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives. It will be representative of agriculture, business and labor, the rich and the poor alike—for one has as much at stake as the other. It will include leaders in education and religion, and representative men and women of all professions.

"A petition has been drafted, universal in its appeal, which will be distributed through the nation for use by cooperating committees and organizations in every state and congressional district. Copies of this petition have been sent to every daily newspaper in the country.

"The National Committee encourages immediate action of all patriotic and civic organizations already in existence. Its purpose is solely to coordinate and assist other activities and to supply a medium of expression for all unorganized individuals.

"We have no quarrel with the President personally, but we shudder to think what would happen to America if the unlimited powers that he would gain for himself by getting control of the Supreme Court, should fall into the hands of an unscrupulous person. If President Roosevelt can dominate all three departments of our government, then some one else can do it No dictator of Europe would have more power, less resistance or restriction

"From the messages and letters received I am encouraged to believe that this fight against the proposal can be won, but it will require the earnest cooperation of every American who is interested in preserving our form of government"

SHERIFF'S SON DETECTS DAD'S LOST WATCH

Sheriff Carl J. Tobiassen is quite happy these days with the recovery of a valued gold watch. During the heavy snow storms in January he skied to and from his home in the Willow Valley district and his wrist watch was lost in the deep snow.

Several weeks elapsed, the scraper had gone over the road several times and many automobiles have gone over the road.

Last Wednesday evening the sheriff's son, little Billie Tobiassen, was walking home from school when he espied the watch lying beside the highway. When e reached home his mother wound the watch and it started running at once. Jeweler R. J. Berggren put a new strap on it and it is as good as new.

DISTRIBUTION COSTS OF AUTO PLATES CUT

SACRAMENTO, March 4.—Cost of the 1937 motor vehicle license plates renewal was reduced $32,500 by the use of California Highway Patrol offices and the establishment of fourteen temporary branch offices of the Department of Motor Vehicles in Southern California, Howard E. Deems, registrar of vehicles, announced today.

The saving was effected, Deems said, by handling 520,000 plates over the counters of these offices. In 1936, he continued only 270,000 sets were so issued and the additional 250,000 had to be mailed from Sacramento at a cost of sixteen cents per set.

"The value of the temporary offices has been demonstrated," the registrar declared. "not only from a monetary stand point, but also from the stand point of convenience to those remote from regular offices of the department.

"Merchants in communities not previously served by these counter offices, have enthusiastically endorsed them."

SKEET SHOOTERS TO BANG IN ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, March 4. — Skeet shooters of northern California will compete for the championships of that section in a two day shoot at the range of the Golden Gate Gun Club in West Alameda on April 17 and 18 according to an announcement today by Walter Hanna, Golden Gate president, who this year is also serving as president of the Northern Skeet Shooters association.

Invitations to all clubs in his jurisdiction and to unaffiliated shooters as well are in the mail today, coincident with an announcement that the Golden Gate club has started work on a third skeet field to accomodate the 200 or more shooters who are expected to enter. The program calls for both team and individual competitions, the latter to be participated in by both men and women. Details of the program are now being worked out and will be announced at an early date.

That this year's championships will set a new record for the number of entries seems certain inasmuch as several clubs in the district are to hold preliminary shoots and entries to those preliminary events already have exceeded those held lost year in advance of the state shoot at Redding. First of these preliminary shoots will be held Sunday March 7 at the range of the Pacific Rod and Gun club at Lake Merced in San Francisco. Special trophies are announced for the events.

WENDELL ROBIE TELLS OF GROWTH OF SNOW SPORT

Wendell Robie, well known lumberman of Auburn, but perhaps more widely known as the president and father of the Auburn Ski club, was yesterday the guest speaker at the Nevada City Rotary luncheon. Guests for the occasion were Kenneth Arbogast, Judge Raglan Tuttle and Dan Stewart and Herbert Cooper, executives of P. G. & E.

Robie sketched briefly the beginning and history of the club which now has members in Oakland, San Francisco, Sacramento, Marysville and in practically every city in the northern California, south of the Shasta Ski club's territoy. Directors of the Auburn club are now elected from all the main centers of this region from which increasing numbers of winter sports enthusiasts are recruited.

In the beginning several years ago, Robie stated the club consisted of twenty or thirty members in Auburn who loved skiing. But once it was started it grew with startling rapidity. It speedily became necessary to establish headquarters and for this purpose, Robie and his associates prospected the entire ridge of the high Sierras adjacent to the railroad and highway.

The present location above Cisco was finally chosen, and it is now regarded as the best one in this part of the state. It even compares favorably with ski courses abroad and in the east in this country.

The speaker stated that when skiing first began to attract throngs, the roads were badly blocked with snow and no attempt was made by the state highway to maintain them through the heavy storms One year the members of the state legislature were made guests of the club and Auburn volunteered to bring the members from Sacramento to Cisco and return them. They had a great day. The traffic became such a jam and impasse that the highway traffic officers required an hour and a half to clear the road to that they could turn the cars, which had brought hundreds of people there, and get them started home again. As a result of their eye-witness experience the legislators were able to persuade the state highway commission to maintain winter crews and equipment and to keep the road cleared, not only for winter sports lovers, but for the continental traffic that flows over Emigrant Gap.

Robie stated that the dues are only a dollar a year, but that by making a dime do duty for a dollar, the club has been able to build a commodious club house where sandwiches may be obtained, skis waxed, and shivering skiers warmed.

The lack of hotel accomodations along the highway he stated was now a restricting influence on attendance, but even as the accomodations are more than 2400 people sometimes gather at the ski club on holidays and Sundays. He declared that winter sports are still in their infancy and cited the great hotels of Innsbruck and St. Moritz in Austria and Switzerland, respectively, which care for thousands every winter.

NEVADA CITY TO PARK PARALLEL, BIG CITY STYLE

Praise is being given the city council in changing car parking space in the business district. In the past autos on the north side of the street parked parallel with the curb and those on the south side were slanting. Yesterday city crews started repainting the parking zones to parallel the sidewalk. This gives more space for cars passing in the center of the street and making it safer to drive away from the curb as it eliminater backing Many accidents have been ca.used, according to statistics, by cars backing from their parking space into a passing car in the traffic lanes.

Four Year

With the beginning of the second part of the session of the State Legislature, strong opposition is developing against bills which propose the establishment of four-year regional colleges throughout California, added to present facilities in higher education. A statewide committee, organized to support a planned development of higher education and to oppose four-year regional colleges, denounces them as involving needless and unduly expensive duplication.

Among the measures being opposed is Assembly bill 1093, which would convert the Fresno State College, a teachers college, into a new four-year institution which would be called the University of Central California, with separate board of trustees. It is intended that no more state universities are needed, and belief is expressed that if this bill were enacted, attempts would be made to change many or all of the six other teachers colleges to similar advanced status.

Another proposal, Assembly bill 212, calls for the construction and operation of a state college to be located in the Pomona district and for an initial appropriations of $800,000. Senate bill 88 asks for creation in Sacramento of a four-year college to be known as the California College of Vocational Art, to use the facilities of the Sacramento Junior College "under such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon," but to be supported by state money.

All these four-year regional college bills are being opposed by the statewide committee on higher education, of which John L. McNab is chairman, and Aubrey Drury is secretary. The committee includes George C. Pardee, Frederick J. Koster, Will F. Morrish, Rupert Hughes, Allen T. Archer, F. W. Wentworth, Stewart Edward White, Rev. Willsie M. Martin, Rev. Harold F. Ring, George W. Cohen, James Wilfred McKinley, Ralph T. Fisher, Mrs. F. T. Robson, Mrs. Mabel D. Ahart, Mrs. Annette Abbott Adams, and members throughout California. Voters are urged to inform their state legislators of the widespread opposition to the establishment of duplicative four-year regional colleges.

Open Letter

By GEORGE MALCOLM SMITH

Some day, my ill-mannered friend, you are going to go too far. Some day, when you swerve around a street corner, you are going to clip the buttons off the wrong pedestrian's vest, and he is going to catch up with you, haul you off your comfy upholstery and deal you the smacking down you deserve. You're a veritable titan of self-assurance, aren't you, when you're behind an eight-cylinder engine? But how do you look on your feet? Are you the same dashing, imposing, self-assertive personage for whom the rest of the world must make room? Would you dare shove another pedestrian aside; would you jostle a six-footer? You would not, for you're just a grubby little inferiority complex who's been sublimated by a shot of gasoline.

And what's the reason for this breakneck rush of yours, anyway? You're in an automobile. You'll arrive at your destination 10, 15 or 20 times quicker than the pedestrian you're crowding back onto the curb. The best he can do is five or six miles an hour. Is your business ten times more urgent than his? My, my, what an important fellow you are! What vast designs, what momentous projects must occupy your waking hours to justify such impatience.

The automobile, it seems, is the devil's gift to the Little Man. Put him in control of a motor car and he's cock o' the crosswalks. But if you suddenly yanked that ton or two of iron and steel out from under him, you'd find him just a measly nonenity with the mental setup of a grammar school bully.

ELEVATOR AT COURT HOUSE

The new elevator at the court house has been installed and though not yet accepted by the inspector is being used by workmen to carry materials from one floor to another in completing construction.

Forms are partly up for the new quarters for the sheriff's office which will be on the second floor in the rear of the building The present sheriff's office will be the office of the probation officer, A. W. McGagin, when the new addition is completed.

Mr. H. Chatfield of Pike City came out Sunday. He had to use skis for two miles. He stated with two more weeks of good weather the road will be clear of snow.

The clerk of the board was directed to send a copy of the resolution to Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield, Senator J. L. Seawell and Assemblyman Jesse Mayo.

Capital Business

Compiled by Sacramento Chamber of Commerce

Pacific Coast colleges will battle it out Friday and Saturday nights in the squared ring of Sacramento's Memorial auditorium when the Davis Aggies play host to the annual Pacific Coast Boxing tournament.

Boxers representing the University of San Francisco, Washington State, San Jose State, California, Stanford, Santa Clara, U. C. L. A., University of Idaho, and the California Aggies will battle for individual and team championships in the largest entry list in the history of the event. About 50 bouts will be staged in the two nights, and eight champions will be crowned.

Last year Washington State and U. C. L. A. tied for the team championship. This year San Jose and the University of San Francisco appear to have the best teams, but in this grueling tournament any one of the other seven schools might score an upset.

California's lawmakers gathered in Sacramento Monday for the second session of the state legislature. A total of 3979 bills already introduced, together with a maximum of 240 more measures face them in the long session ahead, expected to take about four or five months.

The main controversies probably will be over taxation, liquor, oil, relief and strike settlements.

One of the most unique services in the west, the passenger line on the Sacramento river to San Francisco, will be resumed this week end, with a special spring excursion slated at 75 cents for the round trip and lower rates than ever before for the staterooms. The River Lines famous palatial river steamer, the Delta King, will carry an orchestra as part of the excursion's entertainment program.

A new wage increase of 15 per cent that will benefit 17,048 cannery workers in the Sacramento valley was announced last week. This is the second increase within three months affecting 23 valley canneries and it will bring the 1327 wage levels 25 per cent above the average last year. Men will receive a base pay of 50 cents an hour. Women will receive 40 cents. In 1936 the scale for men was 40 cents and that for women was 33 1-3 cents. Sacramento valley canneries last year paid $4,445,533 in wages.

The legislative and relief committee of the California state supervisors association adopted a proposed plan to change the state relief setup when they met in Sacramento last week. Supervisor Warren Shannon of San Francisco immediately served notice that he will fight the adoption of the proposal before the group's convention which will be held in Sacramento March 17 to 19. Shannon contends the plan, which would have the counties pay all relief costs up to 5 cents on each $100 of assessed valuation wiih the state and individual counties splitting the cost between 5 and 27 cents, would benefit eleven counties and injure 47 others. Relief costs above 27 cents would be borne by the state entirely. Shannon and other members of the San Francisco delegation favor a continuation of the present relief setup.

A combination bid of $102,646 by the Haas, Doughty, Jones and Marshall Stacy Construction companies of San Francisco was the lowest submitted for the construction of the first unit of the Contra Costa canal of the Central Valleys Project.

The 25 bids submitted were opened in the offices of the bureau of reclamation in the old post office building in Sacramento.

The construction of the four mile unit will include earth work and structures, principally four inverted siphons to conduct the water under the same number of creeks.

Between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 will be expended on the construction of the conduit, a canal approximately twenty or thirty miles long.

QUEEN LIL CUSTOM MILL

The Queen Lil custom mill will start treating ore from the Giant King mine at Washington March 15. J. C. Clack of the Giant King was in Nevada City Wedneesday and signed a contract to deliver 1500 tons of ore to the custom mill at the rate of 500 tons or over per month for the next three months. Carl Trevethick of Nevada City has been hired to reset the compressor blocks at the Giant King mine and several men are taking out ore. The custom mill is preparing to treat 50 tos of ore from the Defender mine near Jackson in the next few days as a test run for the mine.

REMOVAL OF U. S. GAS TAX URGED BY AUTO ASSN.

How long is "temporary" when the word is used in referring to the Federal gasoline tax of one cent per gallon?

Pressing Congress for an answer to this question, a nationwide demand for elimination of the tax is steadily gaining force, the California State Automobile Association declared in a statement today.

Originally enacted in 1932 as an emergency measure to provide a temporary source of revenue, the Federal tax on gasoline was re-enacted in 1933 for a two-year period and extended for another two years in 1935 Unless again extended by Congress the tax will automatically die June 30 this year.

Francis Carr of Redding, Association president, in letters recently dispatched to members of the California delegation in congress, declared that "the time has now come when any further continuation of the Federal gasoline tax will give it an aspect of permanence never intended upon its first enactment or its two extensions since that time."

Last year alone the tax cost American motorists $190,000,000, the Automobile Association pointed out.

As evidence of widespread demand for removal of the tax the association cited action by the third general assembly of the Council of State Governments held in Washington, D. C., in January, which adopted resolutions declaring as follows:

"The original temporary emergency nature of the Federal gasoline tax, improving yields from Federal levies, the vital importance of gasoline taxes as state revenue sources, and the essential role of gasoline as a commodity utilized in transportation and communication, prompt the assembly to request and urge the congress relinquish this recognized field of state taxation at the termination of the current fiscal year, or as soon thereafter as possible."

EPWORTH LEAGUE ELECTS AND INSTALLS OFFICERS

The Epworth League met last Sunday evening with Miss Joan Grant presiding. It was the last night of her successful term. Her topic was: "What the Epworth League should mean to young people." She gave an interesting address on the subject and was followed by comments by the Rev. H. H. Buckner.

Following the evening services installation of officers was held with President Grant in charge. Candles representing each officer were lighted. The following new members were admitted to the league. Jane Bennett, Anita Laughlin, Jean Davis, Donald Thomas, Bill Rickard, Franklin White, and Bob Philbrick. Then followed the ceremony in which each of the retiring officers took his candle after it was snuffed and then relighted it to hand to the new officers.

TOWNSEND CLUB WHIST PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

DAISY BLUE MINE

State Corporation Commissioner E. M. Dougherty granted a stock permit to the Daisy Blue Mining Company of Nevada City last Thursday authoritzing the new company to sell 44,999 shares of common stock at its par value of $1.00. R. W. Channon, Live Oak, is president; other officers are John Marks, vice president, Nevada City; A. H. Rutherford, secretary treasurer, Live Oak and Frank Finnegan, assistant secretary, Nevada City.

The new company is incorporated for $100,000 and the shares are non-assessable. The money raised in selling stock will be used to put in a power line, electric pump, and sink the shaft another 100 feet. The shaft is now down 112 feet and plans are to drift on the 200 foot level. The vein is two feet thick at the present level and ore assays average $15 per ton. The company is now busy getting right of way for the power line.

ELECTION OF COUNCIL OFFICERS FOR SCOUTS

Lowell L. Sparks, district attorney for Placer county was re-elected president of the Tahoe Area Council Boy Scouts of America at the annual council meeting last Friday night in Auburn. This will be the secod term as president for Sparks.

Sumner Mering former president of the Sacramento Area Council addressed the meeting dwelling on the fact that scouting is a mobile program that adults may take to where boys are in their own environment and not asking boys to come to it.

Past presidents W. G. Lee, Judge J. B. Landis and K. D. Robinson were re-elected honorary vice presidents. Other officials re-elected were M. J. Royer, treasurer, Judge Raglan Tuttle, national council representative, M. S. Beecher, lone scout commissioner and Harris Ricksecker, scout executive.

President Sparks reappointed the following directors: E. E. Covey, finance, L. H. Reynolds, camping, W. T. Eich, advancement, G. L. Jones, reading, health and safety and Dr. L. W. U. S. FLEET TO TAKE PART IN BRIDGE FIESTA

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—Plans for the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta in San Francisco, in connection with the opening of the world's longest single span, were revised today to provide for a full weeks celebration from May 27 to June 2.

This action was taken after the formal opening of the bridge had been postponed for one week by the Golden Gate Bridge and highway district to permit the navy to participate in the fiesta.

The new bridge opening dates are May 27 for pedestrians and May 28 for vehicles.

The postponement of the bridge opening and fiesta was taken upon the request of Supervisor Arthur M. Brown, Jr., who, with Supervisor James B. McSheehy, is now in Washington, and Congressmen Richard J. Welch and Frank Havenner. It was through their efforts and Mayor Rossi that the fleet visit was arranged with the navy department.

Brown said the navy would send 150 warships to San Francisco for the greatest peace time naval demonstration ever seen in an American port.

Congressman Welch, a director of the bridge district, along with Brown, telegraphed his colleagues that the fleet would arrive in San Francisco May 29 and would remain here a week.

The ships will come to San Francisco directly from the annual maneuvers at sea and will bring between 60,000 and 70,000 officers and enlisted men.

Supervisor Brown explained in his telegram that the navy's plans did not provide for the fleet to come to San Francisco originally and it was only to permit naval participation in the Fiesta that the navy department agreed to curtail the maneuvers one week and order the vessels to proceed here from sea.

Eric Culenward, general manager of the fiesta, addressed the bridge district directors and urged postponement of the bridge opening day.

He pointed out the great benefits that would accrue to San Francisco and the Redwood Empire and all northern California through the arrival of the fleet. He also declared it would bring hundreds of thousands of additional visitors from all parts of the west as well as the wives and families of the officers and enlisted men on the ships.

The postponement was also urged by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, Redwood Empire Association, Down Town Association, California State Federation of Labor, the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, San Francisco Hotel Association, California Northern Hotel Men's Association and numerous other groups.

CAMPAIGN TO SELL CANNED PEARS OPENS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—The Pacific Coat surplus of canned pears will be moved into the retail markets of the United States through a special sales campaign. John Wheeler, Courtland pear grower and chairman of the California division of the Pacific Coast Canned Pear Stabilization Committee, made the announcement here today.

"We feel encouraged in looking forward to a demand that may absorb our carry over stock of canned pears," said Mr. Wheeler. "This happened last year when the peach growers organized for a cooperative effort and we should be able to accomplish similar results."

Mr. Wheeler's statement follows receipt of a telegram from John A. Logan of the National Association of Food Chains, promising the cooperation of 37,000 retail stores in a special campaign to promote the sale of canned pears. He quoted Mr. Logan as saying:

"Special feature newspaper and radio advertising and store promotion material will be developed in a move to widen and increase the consumption of canned pears and to relieve the surplus problem. You may assure pear growers in all producing areas of the earnest and enthusiastic cooperation of Chain Food companies thoughout the United States with this constructive program to aid growers."

CIVIC CLUB TO MEET

The Nevada City Woman's Civic club will hold its regular meeting at the Brand Studio on Monday night at eight o'clock. All members are urged to attend as reports will be heard and new business cared for.

CHARLIE CHAN AT NEVADA THEATRE SATURDAY NIGHT

What is the formula that has made the Charlie Chan pictures the most successful series in films in the history of the screen?

Here's how John Stone, associate producer of "Charlie Chan at the Opera," the latest of the Twentieth Century Fox adventures of the crafty Chinese sleuth, explains it:

"First of all," said Stone, a former New York school teacher and an amateur criminologist. "the crime that Warner Oland, as Charlie Chan is to be called upon to solve in each picture, should involve murder. That's realy serious business.

"We go into a protracted huddle —the writers and myself—months before our picture is to go into production, and we devise an insolvable murder. Logical, yes, but with no clues that even the smartest detective in the world could use to track down the killer.

"Having done that, we turn around and play detective and solve our own crime. 'Charlie Chan at the Opera,' the thirteenth of the series, which we have just completed, is a good example of our mode of operation. I doubt very much if anyone will be many guesses ahead of Detectice Chan in this picture, yet we place before our audience each clue available to Chan.

"It's a lot of work but it's a lot of fun, too, and the steadily increasing popularity of the Chan pictures indicates that it's a pretty practical system as well."

With Warner Oland as Charlie Chan and Boris Karloff playing his maniacal foe "Charlie Chan at the Opera," opens tomorrow at the Nevada Theatre, is promised as the most exciting and nerve jangling mystery the famous detective has ever encountered.

S. F. EXPOSITION BEAUTY CONTEST SOON TO BEGIN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—With a breath taking trip to Paris and London as the ultimate prize, a search was under way in California this week to find the state's prettiest and most representative girl—and send her to San Francisco to compete in the "Miss Western America" contest sponsored by the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

Entries for the contest are already pouring in at the Exposition headquarters.

Later, a committee of distinguished San Francisco citizens will choose the state winner, and she will be sent to San Francisco in a United Air Lines plane with winners from the other ten western states to compete in the "Miss Western America" finals on April 29.

The winning girl will then be sent to Paris, France, as the Exposition's official representative at the Paris International Exhibition of Arts and Technics in June—a glorious thrilling voyage by boat and plane, with all expenses paid, and the companionship of a chaperone. The lucky young lady will have an opportunity to visit Panama and the West Indies en route to France, and will also make a round trip to London, by plane from Paris.

BIGELOW MINE

Meyer and Lusk of Downieville are trucking concentrates from the Bigelow mine at Sierra City to the Idaho-Maryland custom mill at Grass Valley. Fifty tons were brought down last week. S. H. Gillespie and associates of New York are doing extensive development besides mining. Mifteen men are employed. Roy King formerly of Grass Valley is superintendent of the Bigelow property. Arthur Pride of Auburn is in charge of the ten stamp mill which is treating 27 tons of ore per day. A station is being cut 1100 feet from the portal of the tunnel where an ore bin is being built near a winze that is being sunk.

Henry and Herbert Paine, suffering from the flu, came down from Pike City Wednesday.

E. B. Dudley, chairman of the board of supervisors, returned Wednesday to his home in North Bloomfield.

The Siren of the Empire Mine

By CATHERINE BRAITHWAITE

In the year eighteen hundred forty-nine,
When brave men cruising on the rolling brine,
Unfurled their sails for the bright Land of Gold,
To go in search of wealth like myths of old,
They sailed in vessels that were fresh and bright,
As snow flakes that dance in a ray of light;
Yet some were so old and far gone to seed,
They should have been scrapped as a kindly deed.

An Argo of the old-time gold-rush days,
Was a stern-wheeled ship called "The Kitty Hayes,"
That anchored real snug, one warm day in June,
In 'Friscoe Bay' which was then but a dune.
Now this old paddler had no other claim,
To shiver her timbers and bid high for fame
But her old siren of brass, meant to blow,
All the high, shrill notes but none of the low.

Now clippers in those days, had fog-horns loud,
To warn sea craft, when they sailed in a cloud,
But this stern-wheeler, the fair "Kitty Hayes,"
Used a brass siren on bad weather days.
Once from a lighthouse, this old siren warned
Ships, twenty miles out to sea that were stormed
Close to rocks, coral, and all danger truck,
That brings to wreck and ruin a vessel's luck.

The "Kitty Hayes" sly Captain heard the scream,
Of this wild, eerie siren worked by steam,
And one day from the lighthouse sneaked it back
To whistle, from "The Kitty Hayes" smoke stack.
Then Captain and ship churned high salty roads,
And on to 'Friscoe's wharves dumped many loads
Till one day her crew, oceans left for rills,
To seek gold-gravel in "them thar hills."

Then three old miners, who just for a lark,
Stole Kitty's siren while the moon was dark,
And off to the mines at Grass Valley fled,
To hide the whistle in the Empire shed.
Next day the siren, by a perplexed boss
Was found, and he off shift but not at loss
At once installed the whistle to the mine—
Then sought his bunk, to sleep till time to dine.

The fireman of the mine came on at ten,
And he was told, to signal for the men
Below, to send up from the earth's deep core,
An extra load or two of precious ore.
He pulled the siren's cord, steam licked the brass,
And forthwith then emerged a shriek, alas,
That was of such an awful anguished yell,
The miners thought the Devil here from hell.

The first keen blast stopped all life in the camp,
From bed the sleeping boss fell in a cramp;
Ear drums split; hearts stood still, mouths gaped wide,
Then people hurried forth in one big tide.
Down below ground, mules kicked the wooden stopes,
And horses, madly broke away their ropes;
Cage after cage of miners swiftly sped
Up, from their deep dark shafts in fearful dread.

Then they stared here and there with hands to ears,
And sought for sources of their awful fears;
Then one accord they ran straight for the hills,
To try escape from certain mortal ills,
As shock gave way to blinding fear and blur
That seizes beasts, and men, when they infer
A danger, which impels them to flee the land
And throws them clear out of good reason's band.

But they came back, and close to one short week,
Grew real fond of the siren's fearful shriek,
They learned to like its piercing wild cat scream,
And grew real proud of its hot, spurting steam.
And the old Empire Mine with tongue of brass,
Passed all the mines of precious, hardrock class,
To become now, without gibe, threat, or jest,
The leading ore mine in the Golden West.

WILD FLOWERS TO BLOOM FOR BRIDGE FIESTA

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—Through the aid of school children, army airplanes, WPA workers, and members of garden clubs and other woman's organizations, the hills overlooking the famed Golden Gate, entrance to San Francisco harbor, are being planted with wildflower seeds this month so that the flowers will bloom for the Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta here May 20 to 23.

Under the direction of Mrs. Arthur M. Brown, Jr., head of the women's division of the Fiesta, civic leaders interested in the floral display have agreed upon a course of action which which will result in hills covered with California poppies, lupins, marigolds, blue-bells and other wild flowers to carry out the fiesta colors—blue for the waters of the Pacific and gold for the Golden Gate.

Property owners in San Francisco and the Redwood Empire counties, whose land is adjacent to the bridge approaches and Redwood highway are joining in the beautification campaign. Mrs. Brown has also opened a drive to have all vacant lots in the vicinity of the bridge and its main arteries cleaned up for the fiesta.

In Marin county, the woman's division is planning a field day when school children would be provided with seeds and tools to plant the hills.

NEW BREAD ON MARKET TODAY

Developed from a recipe which thousands of western women helped to create, a new bread bearing the name of Julia Lee Wright, noted home economist, has made its appearance in Nevada City.

This new Julia Lee Wright bread will be offered to Nevada City people as a "woman's recipe bread" and will be delivered fresh every day to grocery stores, it was announced here today.

Mrs. Wright visited in Sacramento prior to the completion of plans for placing her bread on the market in this city.

Produced with the ultra-modern bakery equipment, this new bread represents the acme of perfection in blending a multitude of recipes suggested to Mrs. Wright by many thousands of women, and personally tested by her during the past few years.

"Ingredients used in my new bread," said Mrs. Wright, "must pass rigid inspection and tests, and only the highest type of flour is accepted in its making.

"Even before the flour used in my bread is made we analyze wheat samples in order to make certain that the very best grades of grain are selected for the millers. Such precautions, continued Mrs. Wright, "constantly guard the quality of the flour at all times and assure the public a product of genuine merit and perfection."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freeman of Point Roberts, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Keene the past few days. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman have been spending the winter in California and are on their way home.

COLD WEATHER CHECKS DAMAGE OF PINE BEETLE

The western pine beetle, subject of Congressman C. F. Lea's $50,000 insect control bill, suffered a mortality of from 15 to 80 per cent during the sub-zero January weather in the Lassen and Sierra National Forests according to J. M. Miller, senior entomologist, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. More detailed studies will be made to determine the extent and effects and its bearing on prospective timber losses for the 1937 season, estimated by some authorities as being $10,000,000 a year to ponderosa pine timber of California.

In a letter to Regional Forester S. Show, of the U. S. Forest Service, Mr. Miller stated that the immediate effect of the severe cold of this winter combined with a low point in the insect infestation cycle tthroughout the state last year, will eliminate the necessity for any large control program for the coming season. This will permit the proposed research program advocated by the California State Chamber of Commerce to get started and to prepare for future attacks of the pine beetle.

Mr. Miller believes the best that can be expected from the 1937 freeze is a temporary setback of the pine beetle population for about one season. He bases his opinion on the effect of former cold weather occurring in 1924 and 1932. Insect damage in the pine timber regions was low in each of the following years but the next two years were in both instances characterized by widespread timber losses. According to Miller only similar cold spells occurring every winter could be expected to result in permanent control of the bark beetle. Entomologists explain the failure of severe cold weather to wipe out the western pine beetle by the probable survival of some of the hardy indviiduals among the bug population who come back strong after a year or two.

The forest service reports that several private lumber companies undertake the control of the pine bark beetle on their own lands. Since 1925 the McCloud Lumber Company has treated 11,365 trees on over half a million acres of their holding at a cost of $76,679 or 6.75 a tree or fourteen cents an acre.

BILLS AFFECTING CAPITAL, LABOR ARE REVIEWED

Some 50 labor bills, affecting agriculture either directly or indirectly—many of which, if enacted, would inevitably increase farm overhead—await the action of California lawmakers when they reconvene on March 1.

In the much-abused name of "social justice," some of the more visionary proposals would work injustice on thousands of farmers and, in the final analysis, would hurt the worker as well as his employer.

Roughly, the measures can be divided into four classifications: 1—Radical legislation, designed to let down the bars to "direct action." 2—Bills dealing with strikes and lockouts, featured by numerous propositions to create labor arbitration boards. 3—Legislaton to shorten hours and increase rates of pay. 4—A series of amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Insurance Act which would sharply increase farm compensation insurance costs.

Heading the list of radical legislation is the bill to repeal the Criminal Syndicalism Act. Repeal of this necessary safeguard would have the effect of declaring an "open season" for communists and radical agitators, intent on fomenting riots and bloodshed as a forerunner to their dream of revolution.

As an aftermath of the maritime strike and other labor disturbances, several proposals for the establishment of labor relations boards have bobbed up in both houses. Best of the lot, perhaps, is Senate Bill 241, by Senator Biggar, setting up an industrial court of seven members—three representing employers, three from the ranks of labor, and the seventh not to be identified with either group—with the court having jurisdiction over all labor disputes. The act makes it unlawful for any employer to engage in or threaten a lockout; it likewise makes it illegal for employees to strike. or threaten to strike, and prohibits picketing. The court's decisions on all cases involving hours of labor, rates of pay, etc, would be final.

Many and varied are the other arbitration acts, some making arbitration compulsory; others making the boards mainly advisory. The success or failure of any such plan, however, would be largely dependent on the type of board appointed. If a board could be secured which would act judicially and fairly, in the public interest, rather than in the interest of one of the parties to the controversy it might accomplish much good. On the other hand, a partisan board would make a bad matter worse.

In the flood of bills for shorter hours and bigger pay envelopes are many which indicate that little thought has been given to whether agriculture, or business and industry, can pay the overhead and escape bankruptcy. A. B. 827, by Assemblymen Pelletier and Hawkins, for example, provides for a 6 hour day and a 5 day week in all manual labor, except for specific exemptions, with provisions for overtime at the rate of $1.50 an hour for laborers and $2 an hour for skilled workers The "less work and more pay" bills flourish, this session, like the green bay tree. Then there are numerous bills preventing injunctions to stop strikes; prohibiting state employment agencies from furnishing strike-breakers, etc, and acts stipulating that employers—in addition to not requiring more than a fixed number of hours of labor—shall not "permit" their employees to exceed the hours established by law. Many of the bills make no allowance for the laws of nature, or harvest seasons, and under some of the acts, employers would earn far less than their day laborers—if, in fact, they escaped bankruptcy.

MACK MINE

A message has been received in Nevada City that Los Angeles interests are to come up and start a program of diamond drilling as soon as possible at the Mack mine in the Canada Hill district. Bruce Wallace has done considerable development at the mine. The shaft is filled with water as it has not been worked in the last few months.

SISSON MINE

The Sisson Gold Mining company above Downieville has installed machinery and erected a 35 ton daily capacity mill, and several buildings within the last few months Cold weather, freezing pipes and deep snow caused some difficulty, but as soon as weather moderates it is expected production will start. Wide ledges on the property carry good values in gold.

Citizenship
(By CLAYTON RAND)

Henry W. Grady left us an expression of a conception of the relations between the citizen and the state which is worth taking to heart, if perchance there yet remains time for its application:

"Exalt the citizen. As the State is the unit of government, he is the unit of the State. Teach him that his home is his castle, and his sovereignty rests beneath his hat. Make him self-respecting, self-reliant and responsible.

"Let him lean on the State for nothing that his own arm can do, and on the government for nothing that his State can do.

"Let him cultivate independence to the point of sacrifice, and learn that humble things with unbartered liberty are better than splendors bought with its price."

FOURTEEN SCOUTS WILL WIN EAGLE BADGES

Saturday night at 7:55 scouts and their friends will assemble at the call of the bugle for the eleventh annual scout rally in the Roseville union high school gym. Over 1000 are expected to attend the event depicting scout activities and exhibits.

Fourteen scouts will be presented eagle badges by their fathers as part of the opening ceremonies. Through error the name of Frank Kengle was omitted last week as one of the new eagles. Wilson Hatch, commander of the local chapter of the Knights of Dunamis will lead in the pledge of allegiance. Senior councilor, Jack Schultz will lead the scout oath and Junior Councilor Jack Gordon will lead the scout law. Council president Lowell L. Sparks will present the eagle badges. Semaphore and Morse code signaling teams of four scouts each will represent each troop in the contests.

FOOTHILL NEWS
BY THE RIDGE RUNNER

NORTH SAN JUAN, March 4.—Twamley Memorial Hall was the scene of the regular alternate dance up here Saturday night. Ned Dennis and his Hard Rock Miners furnished good old mountain music. Mrs. Carrie Holland furnished an unusually good supper and with the large room hall to dance in the evening was a big success. Another big dance is scheduled for Saturday night, March 13.

The North San Juan Ridge Improvement League elected new officers for the year. Mrs. Amelia Cunningham president; Mr. Coleman, vice president; Miss Gladys Cunningham, secretary; Mrs. Agnes Stebbins, treasurer and Mrs. Anna Bradbury, finance.

Miss Katherine Develey, Mr. Reno Macari and Mr. and Mrs. Basset motored down from Alleghany to attend the dance, and Freeman's Crossing sent their representative citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnsworth and Miwe Condon.

The Townsend Club held its regular meeting Sunday afternoon at Twamley Hall. The president, Mr. Miles Tilden, I am sorry to report is still inconvenienced with a broken leg. Mr. Tilden and his committees are working hard on the preparatios for their whist party at French Corral this coming Saturday evening. Good prizes, good eats and good music for dancing are on this program.

The back-yard placer mine on the old bank building site is still vigorously operating. Butch VanCleet and Mike Denike are supervisors.

Frank Farnsworth and Bob Braithwaite are now in charge of the dances at North San Juan. The boys promise plenty of varieties, good music, new refreshment arrangements and other improvements that will guarantee everybody a good time.

MANY MINERS JOIN C. I. O. UNION, REPORT STATES

Organizers for the C. I. O. report that a large class of miners in this district was initiated at the first meeting of Twin City Local No. 283 International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, Sunday afternoon, February 28. This organization is a continuation of the Western Federation of Miners.

And, as in the past, this organization is an industrial one and includes all workers in and around the mines, mills, and smelters. It is now an affiliate of the powerful Committee for Industrial Organization, or, the C. I. O. as it is commonly known.

Aside from the number of those that became charter members of the order, many were compelled to leave for work, before the organizing committee had a chance to take them in. However, arrangements have been made to take in new members through the week in both Nevada City and Grass Valley. It is planned to follow through with a mass meeting next Sunday in a place yet to be selected. It is the belief of the committee that the largest hall in the district will be necessary for this purpose.

The organizing committee will remain in the district until such time the newly established union can assume the responsibilities of carrying on its regular work. On the basis of the existing response, the committee believes and states that within a short time, they will be representing the majority of the mine workers here for the purpose of collective bargaining on wages and working conditions.

APIARISTS MUST NOW REGISTER THEIR BEES

County Agricultural Commissioner L. G. Lagerson has notified beekeepers of the county that they should register their bees on or before March 1 to avoid penalties for failure to register.

There is no payment required for the registration of bees but failure to register them is a violation of the agricultural code.

Forms for registration of bees may be secured from the agricultural commissioner.

The state agricultural code requires that all colonies be registered regardless of the number owned by the beekeeper.

The purpose of registration is to enable the county agricultural commissioner to know where all bees in his county are located.

Although bees may have been registered last year that fact does not exempt the beekeeper from registering them again this year, as the law requires that all bees be registered on or before March 1 of each year.

AGED PIONEER WOMAN LAID TO REST TODAY

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Louise Isobell Mackey who passed away at her home near Camptonville Wednesday, will be held at Camptonville this afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. Mackey was 79 years of age at the time of her passing and had lived in Camptonville for 57 years. She is survived by a son, John W. Mackey of Camptonville. Other relatives live in San Francisco.

John Richards of Nevada City received treatment early this week for an injury to his chin. While at work a board flew up and struck him. Dr. B. W. Hummelt treated the cut and bruise.

Lots of Murphy paint going on during these bright sunny days. We can suit your taste as to colors with the new Murphy "a la carte" plan, which has proved successful for a number of years.

Contractor Ralph Cochrane is installing the frames on the new Methodist church in Grass Valley and preparing the church structure for stucco on the exterior. The Social Hall and kitchen have been completed and in use for some time.

Not too late to reshingle that roof with good wood shingles if it leaked this winter. Lots of rain still to come during the spring months. We have several grades and sizes of redwood and cedar shingles as well as the fine Creolinium Shingle stain to give color to your roof.

White cement will be used to give the final touch to the city hall in Nevada City and Superintendent Wilkie is now having this part of the work done.

Superintendent Gunn in charge of the work on the court house for Contractors Lindgren and Swinerton reports that the interior plastering is well along. Work is now concentrated on the rear of the building.

Him: "Well, I suppose you're angry because I came home with this black eye last night."

MISSING MINER FOUND IN SACTO.

Fred Wade, Murchie miner, who was reported missing to the sheriff's office last week, has been seen wandering about in Sacramento in a seemingly dazed condition.

Joe Crane, a Nevada City man who formerly worked with Wade at the Murchie mine, reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday that he had seen Fred Wade wandering about the streets of Sacramento at one o'clock that morning. He took him to a restaurant and gave him a meal and told him he would bring him home. When Crane was ready to return Wade refused to come to Nevada City.

A story reached this city last week that Wade had sold a mine claim at Placerville and when he reached Sacramento in a car, he stepped out and was either knocked unconscious or killed by a passing truck. It is now stated that it was another Wade that was injured in an auto accident.

Mrs. Charles Leiter, District Deputy Grand Matron of the O. E. S. visited the Truckee chapter Tuesday. Tuesday night she gave instruction to the Truckee Chapter.

WPA PLAYERS TO TOUR WITH SHOW

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—Establishment of a road show circuit, bringing the living theatre to smaller communities in California is now in the process of becoming an accomplished fact. Francis Smith is traveling ahead laying out the outline of what is to become a regular wheel for Federal Theatres productions.

Later the same circuit will be enlarged to take in all Pacific Coast states and communities in eleven western states, it is said.
